Message from JS&MD (HFA) Shri Kuldip Narayan

Seven years of Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban)! It has been a long journey of challenges and achieving milestones. In these 7 years, we have transformed the lives of lakhs of families by giving them their own pucca houses & still, we have a long way to go. The success is not just ours, it is of all the States/UTs & other stakeholders who have been associated with the Mission & have supported the Ministry in successful implementation of the programme.

I also extend my special gratitude to all PMAY-U beneficiaries for showing their trust on us which has led to such fruitful results. Our beneficiaries form the core of PMAY-U. When I travel to different places, I make sure I meet the beneficiaries to learn about their transformation stories & seeing their smiles and happiness add fuel to our commitment to provide roof over the heads of more and more people.

The 7 years of PMAY-U was celebrated with fervour across the nation by States/UTs/ULBs & by us at the Ministry by organising different events. We have launched an e-book which takes readers through the Mission's journey all through these years and similarly, a film was also released to mark the occasion. The winners of Khushiyan Ka Aashiyana short film contest were also announced & I must credit the various filmmakers, as I liked to call them now, for putting in so much effort for bringing to screen some untold transforming experiences of beneficiaries from across the country.

The day coincided with the foundation laying ceremony of Demonstration Housing Project in Nagaland by Hon'ble Minister.

At PMAY-U, our constant effort is to work for people and to help in building an AatmaNirbhar Bharat.

PMAY-U providing financial security for better opportunities

PMAY-U has opened doors of opportunities for every beneficiary registered under the Mission. The millions of transformation stories are a testament to the fact that when a family gets a roof over its head, it gets a sense of safety, dignity and financial security. PMAY-U has empowered both women and men of the household with better opportunities. Such is the inspiring story of Smt Pratibhaben and her husband Shri Shrimali Dineshkumar Mafatlal, who reside in Gujarat's Anand. Shri Dineshbhai – as he is often called is a painter by profession and Smt Pratibhaben is an embroiderer.

Both Shri Dineshbhai and Smt Pratibhaben are truly blessed with exemplary artisan skills. They were able to improvise over it more after they got moved into their pucca house in sometime between 2019-2020. Shri Dineshbhai says, "Due to our poor living conditions earlier, I was not able to concentrate on my work. There was shortage of proper living space and in such a case, I could not afford to make a base to create any artwork." Smt. Pratibhaben too, just managed the house and could not support her husband in any form. Shri Dineshbhai adds that seeing the circumstances in which they lived, he did not receive huge orders. Later, he rented out a space to work, but the mounting expenses forced him to shut down work.

"I knew I have the skill, but I was not getting good opportunities. It was only after we got a pucca house under PMAY-U that opportunities knocked our door. When we built this house, I specifically got a separate room constructed for my work. Today, I paint without any hassles or tension. My wife has also got a chance to showcase her talent," Shri Dineshbhai explains.

He is associated with an art gallery in Delhi. Some of his works are displayed at government building in Gandhinagar and other parts of Gujarat. He proudly adds that he was also informed by a client that his work was also gifted to former Prime Minister Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee. Shri Dineshbhai also takes individual orders and sells them directly to the clients. Smt Pratibhaben has also been part of some exhibitions in Mumbai and Ahmedabad where her artwork was displayed.

Their house is primarily run by Shri Dineshbhai's income. His parents also stay with the couple. He says that the house has turned out to be their lucky charm. Things are moving swiftly. The house is equipped with all basic amenities. Every house built under the Mission ensures dignity of living with access to basic civic amenities.
