

BHANU Ghosh

TRIPURA

For Bhanu Ghosh and her husband Ratan Ghosh, a house of their own was a distant dream due to poor financial condition. They are street vendors in Mohanpur, West Tripura district.

“We sell snacks on the street. We used to live in a mud walled house earlier. We wanted to build a pucca house, but due to our meagre income, it felt like an impossible dream,” she says.

The couple has a son and his future worried them until they made a pucca home of their own with assistance from PMAY(U).

“Life was very undignified in a mud house. Hygiene would be a big issue, especially during rains,” recalls Ratan Ghosh. It was like a dream come true for them when a house was sanctioned to them under PMAY(U).

“We happily constructed our pucca house with the help of the fund received and our little savings. The house has given us a sense of security and happiness. There's nothing more that we want,” Bhanu Ghosh said.
