

NISHA Rani Das

TRIPURA

Nisha Rani Das lived with her husband Rebati Mohan Das in a kutcha house made with bamboo. Her family, comprising of five adult members were forced to live in unhygienic conditions. An opportunity for a better and decent living with protection from natural calamities is what the family dreamt of, but the financial constraints deprived them of a good life.

The PMAY(U) house brought a ray of hope in their life. Her son Rajesh got married after the couple constructed the new house. The family now feels much secured.

“During the raining season, we faced a lot of problems in our kutcha house. However, since we moved into the new home, life has changed. We have all the privacy,” Nisha's son Rajesh said.

When they found security of a pucca house under PMAY(U), they discovered new meanings of life. “We feel safe, secure. There is a sense of pride and ownership with this new home. It has all basic amenities,” says Nisha.
